

conservatory

Plan, section, elevation

Second floor overlook

A conservatory addition provides a new informal living area for a 1904 limestone house near Wiarion, Ontario. The addition recalls the architecture of a traditional Victorian enclosed porch, but is also a visibly modern and rationally ordered structure, with exposed steel trusses fanning out from a central column. The north side is anchored and protected by a massive limestone fireplace and inglenook, while large wood windows provide views to the south, east, and west.

View from lawn

completed 1988

Kiss + Cathcart, Architects

150 Nassau Street
New York, NY 10038
tel. 212 513 1711
fax. 212 513 7267